EXTRAORDINARY SWINDLER IN FORMOSA

Chinese Millionaire Defrauded.
Recently in the Taipei Court a preliminary decision was given against Yamamoto Sanehiko, proprietor of the "Tokyo Mainichi," Terashi Ipeki of the same journal, and Sakai Gumpo, a railway official on charges of fraud, and all three accused have been committed for trial.
It appears that these men, by making unauthorized use of the name of Count Itagaki, Count Yamamoto, and Mr. Han, represented to Mr. Kim Hong, a Chinese (naturalized Japanese) millionaire in Formosa, that he might be made a peer if he was ready to spend a certain amount of money for the purpose. By means of false representations these men are said to have succeeded in obtaining Y.2,000 from Mr. Kim for expenses, and another Y.20,000 for the ostensible purpose of buying the Tokyo Mainichi for the purpose of converting it into an organ of the Yamamoto Cabinet. Count Itagaki, interviewed by the Asahi, remarks that on December 14th, 1912, Mr. Kim Hong called on the Count and asked him to accept Y.50,000 to be given by the Count to Yamamoto and Terashi. Not knowing anything of the nature of the transaction, Count Itagaki was disposed to decline the request, but the "millionaire" so earnestly pressed him to take the money that the Count finally agreed to take it and give it to the men named. Some days afterwards the two men called on the Count, and the cheque was duly given to them. Count Itagaki did not discover the nature of the fraud until the men were arrested and the real facts of the affair were disclosed.
The public trial of the accused commenced at Taipei on the 15th ult.

DIRTY CURRENCY NOTES.

Action to Secure Clean Paper Money.

With the approval of the Secretary of State the Government of India has decided to discontinue the practice of re-issuing currency notes. In future any notes presented at a Currency Office will be at once cancelled, however short a time they may have been in circulation. The direct effect of this reform will be to diminish the number of soiled notes in circulation, and so to enhance the convenience of the paper currency of the country, the great majority of people having a marked distaste for dirty paper money. The Bank of England has never practised re-issue, and this has undoubtedly contributed to the universal acceptability of Bank of England notes. The new procedure will also afford a protection against forgery, this being one of the chief reasons for its adoption by the Bank of England. Dirty is one of the worst enemies of a currency, and it is a common device for counterfeiters to be deliberately soiled or to need in order to obscure the defects of the imitation and render detection more difficult. When clean notes are readily obtainable from the bulk of the circulation a dirty note is likely to have the contrary effect of arousing suspicion. Issues will be discontinued at once in all currency offices except at Bombay, where there will be some little delay owing to the necessity of providing extra accommodation for the additional establishment that will be required to deal with the increased stock of notes under the new system.

"I cannot endorse the talk of those armchair politicians who discourse about the spathy of the nation with regard to the war," said Lord Rosebery, at the Penetration Day proceedings at the University of London. "What nation in history has ever raised over two million men in a few months for voluntary service, and is willing to spend over two millions a day, as long as it will, in order to spend in order to fairly the arguments in the field? Let those who talk of the spathy stand forth! I for one see no signs of such in my country."

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

ENO'S
FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhoea by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.

RESIGNATION OF MR. W. J. BRYAN.

GERMAN OUTRAGES.

Serious Disagreement With President's Policy.

As was announced in the later editions of "The Daily Telegraph" yesterday (June 9), Mr. William Jennings Bryan has resigned the office of Secretary of State which he had held since the induction into office of Dr. Woodrow Wilson as President of the United States in 1913.

This important news reached us at 3 a.m. in the form of the following telegram from our own Correspondent at Washington:

WASHINGTON, Tuesday Evening.

Owing to a disagreement with the President, Mr. Bryan, Secretary of State, has resigned.

A telegram from the Exchange Telegraph Company's New York correspondent stated that the President had accepted the resignation, and added:

"The resignation of Mr. Bryan is due to differences with President Wilson as to the wording of the Note to Germany."

Mr. Robert Lansing, Counselor of the State Department, has been made Acting Secretary of State.

In a message despatched from Washington on Tuesday evening, but received in London too late for publication in morning papers, Reuter's correspondent gives the text of the letters exchanged between Mr. Bryan and the President. It is as follows:

My dear Mr. President:

It is with sincere regret that I have reached the conclusion that I shall return you the commission of Secretary of State which you honored me at the beginning of your administration.

Obedient to your sense of duty, and actuated by the highest motives, you have prepared for transmission to the German Government a Note in which I cannot join without violating what I deem to be my obligation to my country, and the issue involved is of such moment that to remain a member of the Cabinet would be as unfair to you as it would be to the cause which is nearest my heart, namely, the prevention of war.

I therefore respectfully tender my resignation, to take effect when the Note is sent, unless you prefer an earlier hour. Alike desirous of reaching a peaceful solution of the problems arising out of the use of submarines against merchantmen, we find ourselves differing irreconcilably as to the methods which should be employed.

It falls to your lot to speak officially for the nation, but I consider it to be none the less my duty to endeavor to set a private citizen to promote the end which you have in view by means which you do not feel at liberty to use.

In sovering the intimate and pleasant relations which have existed between us during the past two years, permit me to acknowledge the profound satisfaction which it has given me to be associated with you in the important work which has come before the State Department, and to thank you for the courtesies extended. With the heartiest good wishes for your personal welfare and the success of your administration, I am, my dear Mr. President, very truly yours,

W. J. BRYAN.

Dr. Wilson's Reply.

The President's letter to Mr. Bryan was as follows:

My dear Mr. Bryan:

I accept your resignation only because you insist upon its acceptance, and I accept it with much more than deep regret, and with a feeling of personal sorrow. Our two years' close association has been very delightful to me. Our judgments have accorded in practically every matter of official duty and of public policy until now.

Your support of the work and purposes of the Administration have been generous and loyal beyond praise, and your devotion to the duties of your great office, your eagerness to take advantage of every great opportunity for the service it has offered have been an example to the rest of us. You have earned our affectionate admiration and gratitude.

Very truly yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

Mr. Bryan later said that he would have a more complete statement to make when the reply to the German Note was sent, which would probably be to-morrow, and added that his resignation became effective as soon as the Note was forwarded.

Reuter.

Reasons for Resignation.

The Cabinet's rejoinder to the Berlin Note was cabled this afternoon. Mr. Bryan, shortly after mid-day, called at White House to say farewell. I saw him on his return, and learned that the substance of the statement which he will issue to-day in explanation of his resignation is as follows:

First and foremost, he feels that the views of the President and himself regarding the action of the Government in relation to Germany are irreconcilable, and this being the case, he holds that to stay in the Cabinet and subscribe to the President's policy would be to stultify himself, and also to embarrass the President. Mr. Bryan believes that by remaining outside the Cabinet, instead of inside, he can do more for the cause he has most at heart—the abolition of war and the settlement of disputes by arbitration.

The late Secretary of State professes to have received a hint to the effect that Germany would not be unwilling to accept a settlement on the basis of arbitration, and, in view of the fact that Washington has made treaties of arbitration with thirty nations, and was committed in principle to arbitrate, although no actual treaty existed with Germany, he feels any dispute could be amicably adjusted. In Mr. Bryan's view the President should warn all Americans to keep away from ships carrying munitions of war, and he cites the example of Mr. Taft, who, when he was President, issued a proclamation warning all Americans to keep out of Mexico.

Mr. Bryan when I saw him to-day, seemed very well and cheerful. He will remain in Washington for a few days, and, after a short holiday in North Carolina, will resume his favorite task of urging the acceptance by all countries of arbitration treaties.

opportunity to warn.

In a speech delivered on May 12, 1913, to the visiting British, Canadian, and Australian delegates to the Treaty of Ghent celebration, Mr. Bryan told the diners that there would be no war while he was Secretary of State, and that he would never have accepted his portfolio if he had thought for one moment that there would be war during his tenure of office. To avoid the possibility of being Secretary of State during a state of war or actual war—Americans do not consider the two things precisely the same, because the one implies passive and the other active hostility—Mr. Bryan now retires into private life. In a statement issued to-day, however, he makes it clear that he is in full agreement with the general policies of Dr. Wilson's Cabinet, apart from the precise issue which compelled his resignation.

America, though greatly interested by Mr. Bryan's action, stands firmly by Dr. Wilson, and at heart is not very deeply moved. The New York Stock Exchange, one of the best barometers of public opinion in a national crisis, refused positively to slump. There was a tendency to a decline of a point or two at the opening, but most of the members seemed to regard the elimination of Mr. Bryan from the Cabinet as highly desirable. His "grape-juice diplomacy" has often been the topic of criticism, and has not been endorsed by the country generally.

"LITTLE AMERICA" POLICY.

Broadly speaking, Mr. Bryan stood for a "little America policy" and peace at any price, two ideals upon which neither Republicans nor Democrats are perfectly agreed. The most enlightened men of both parties here consider that Bryanism stands for elements which are not conducive to the progress and dignity of the greatest neutral Power.

He was Secretary in name only, as others did the work. This comment by the "New York World," the leading organ of American Democracy, expresses the popular sentiment.

So far as one can analyze the situation, Mr. Bryan's refusal to sign the Cabinet's rejoinder to Berlin is interpreted as meaning that it will contain a vigorous demand for an adequate explanation of the acts already committed against American citizens, and assurances of the observance of international laws in future.

Now that Mr. Bryan has spoken, it is hoped that there will be a real awakening in Germany to the determination of the President and to the seriousness of the situation confronting them as the result of the American Government's demands.

That there will be a split in the Democratic party, with Mr. Bryan eventually appearing as leader in opposition to Dr. Wilson's re-nomination, is predicted by many. Many officials at Washington expect to see a clean-cut issue between Dr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan on the question of the national defenses.

View in Germany.

The news of Mr. Bryan's resignation was known in Germany at midday to-day, and caused a deep stir throughout the country. The Foreign Office ordered the newspapers to refrain from comment until further notice.

It is generally expected that Mr. Bryan's resignation means that the United States Administration will take up an energetic attitude towards Germany. Mr. Bryan was generally known in Germany not only as a pacifist, but also as a friend of Germany, and he was often represented as an "ideal peace mediator."

THE LITTLE SCRAP OF PAPER.

The honourable Chancellor in "holy anger" rose, denouncing the behaviour of his base Italian foe; the sacredness of treaties was the theme of his discourse, and he laid especial emphasis upon their binding force.

He pointed out that Germany had pledged her solemn word.

And for Italy to show mistrust was simply too absurd.

He spoke at length and never once referred, we understand, to the little "scrap of paper" he was holding in his hand.

LOYAL PATHANS.

A GERMAN MANOEUVRE THAT FAILED.

LONDON, July 10, 3 p.m.

Reuter has received information of a remarkable exploit of Indian troops.

One hundred of the Pathan Infantry, under a native officer, were captured by the Germans and sent to Constantinople in the hope that they would join the Turks.

They somehow escaped, and after a march of four months reached Cabul safely where they were well received.

After resting, they will rejoin their regiment in India.

ON THE EASTERN FRONT.

ATTEMPT TO SECURE RUSSIAN RAILWAY FAILS.

LONDON, July 9.

The front on which the battle to the south of Lublin is now proceeding, says a Petrograd telegram, is practically identical with that from which the Austrian invasion was driven back at the commencement of the war. It begins at Josefow, on the Vistula, 35 miles due south from the fortress of Ivangorod, passes six miles north of Krasnik, bends southward along the valley of the Bug to the Headquarters on the Zolotoplika, or the Golden Lime Tree River. Sixteen miles of this front, between Josefow and Urzendova constitute an admirable Russian defensive position in broken, wooded, mountainous country. The Russians now have the advantage of the railways, and are fighting with their backs to the Ivangorod-Brestlitovsk fortified line, while their adversaries are in a railwayless country. Their rear is now a roadless desert. The immediate object of the invaders was to seize the Cholm-Lublin-Ivangorod Railway. It was the Centre outmarching the Wing in anxiety to reach the railways that formed a deep salient which was badly mauled by the Russian counter-attacks.

An old woman, aged 75, living on the first floor of 27 China Street, was sentenced by Mr Wood, at the Magistracy to-day to one month's hard labour on each of three charges of having in her possession seven Mauser revolvers and 2,500 rounds of ammunition, and a quantity of opium, which were discovered by Revenue Officer Wilden and a search party. The woman, pleading not guilty, said it was not her property, and must have been placed there by someone else.

A comic case of attempted smuggling has just come to light at Copenhagen. When three well-dressed men with a distinct tendency towards adiposity were about to step aboard the ferryboat for Sweden the Customs officials subjected them to a close scrutiny. Their uncommon stoutness was due not to over-feeding but to the presence of tyres wound closely round their bodies. Rubber export is prohibited, and the three men, much reduced in size, were arrested, and measures are also to be taken against the firm by whom the material was supplied.

IMPORTANT DESPATCH FROM FIELD MARSHAL FRENCH.

LONDON, July 11, 8.40 p.m.

Field Marshal French, in a despatch dealing with events from April 5 to June 15, which is especially interesting as covering the first experiences of the enemy's employment of gas, and which shows it to have been far more extensive and more effective than hitherto realised.

Sir John French, at the outset, regrets that fighting during the period was characterised on the enemy's side by cynical and barbarous disregard of the canons of civilised warfare and a flagrant violation of the Hague Convention, which materially influenced the operations in the neighbourhood of Ypres until experience suggested effective counter measures, which had since been so perfected as to render the gases innocuous.

The despatch describes in the greatest detail the gallant defence of Ypres and district following upon the French retirement to the east of Ypres, which was entirely the result of the surprise and confusion of the first experience of gas; and the battle at Festubert from May 9 to May 23. Both affairs make long stories of day-long fighting, of capture, loss, and recapture of trenches, marked with much gallantry.

Sir John French specially mentions the valuable services of General Haig for successfully handling the First Army throughout Festubert, and General Plumer for his fine defence of Ypres, throughout the arduous and difficult operations in April and May, all reflecting the greatest possible credit.

Sir John French reports the arrival of several divisions of the New Army and says that though they have as yet little experience of fighting, he is of opinion that they will prove a valuable addition as they are well-ordered and equipped. The artillery is quite fit for employment in the line as their shooting is extremely good. In April and May several divisions of Territorials who had also joined, were employed offensively and defensively and everywhere proved to be thoroughly reliable and efficient. The Field Marshal praises the ever-increasing ingenuity and skill of the flying corps. There have been more than sixty combats in the air during the period in question, in all of which not a single British aeroplane has been lost. These flights were almost invariably over or behind the German lines. Only one hostile aeroplane had been brought down in our territory, but five had been wrecked on German territory and many chased down and forced to land in most unsuitable ground.

THE KING VISITS THE NAVY.

A MESSAGE OF "PRIDE AND ADMIRATION."

LONDON, July 11.

The King has been visiting his fleet and at the conclusion of the visit sent the following message to Admiral Jellicoe:—"After two most interesting days I leave with feelings of pride and admiration for the splendid force you command. I had pleasure in seeing the greater portion of the officers and men of the fleet. I realise the patient determined spirit with which you have faced long months of waiting and hoping, and I know how strong a comradeship is linking all ranks. Such a happy state of things convinces me that whenever the day of battle comes my navy will add fresh laurels to its old glorious traditions."

GERMANS USING DEADLINE GASSES.

RESPIRATORS PROVE INEFFECTIVE.

LONDON, July 11.

The Russian Red Cross Society has been informed that the Germans in certain regions are using gases, which are both denser and travel more swiftly, and hence are much deadlier. Many deaths have been reported and the respirators have proved ineffective.

RUSSIANS TAKE 900 PRISONERS AND THREE MAXIM GUNS.

LONDON, July 11.

A Petrograd communique states that the garrison at Ossowies made a sortie on Friday night and destroyed the enemy's saps. Fighting continued on the front, Jaslow-Lyubyn, South of Lublin. A vigorous enemy counter-attack was repulsed with a loss of 900 prisoners and three Maxim guns.

ENEMY REPULSED AT APREMONT.

LONDON, July 11.

A Paris communique records a comparatively quiet day of intermittent cannonading, except in the Forest of Apremont, where an enemy attack was easily repulsed.

GERMANS DEFEATED AT SEVERAL POINTS.

LONDON, July 11, 4.10 p.m.

A telegram from Paris states that the British repulsed a German attack, which first gained a footing in some of the elements of the first line, but was driven out by an immediate counter-attack.

A communique adds that the battle for Souchez continues. A German night counter-attack was defeated.

There were particularly violent cannonades in the region of Neuport, on the Aisne and the Bois-le-Pre.

RUSSIANS MORE THAN HOLDING THEIR OWN IN GALICIA.

LONDON, July 11, 4.10 p.m.

A Petrograd message says that the Russians are still more than holding their own in the battle in Galicia.

The communique records very heavy fighting around the hill and village of Bystritsa, some 80 miles southward of Lublin. The enemy offered a stubborn resistance at the outset and even advanced slightly, but when the Russian reinforcements arrived they forced the enemy to retreat in great haste and disorder. Elsewhere the Austro-German attacks have been easily repulsed. The enemy attempted the offensive at Zolotyn and several times reached the entanglements but were repulsed by vigorous and counter-attacks.

A DENIAL.

LONDON, July 11.

The Hamburg-American Steamship Line denies the report in the Scandinavian Press that it has declared its insolvency.

LORD KITCHENER AT THE GUILDHALL.

THE SERVICES OF ALL TO BE UTILISED.

LONDON, July 10.

Lord Kitchener, speaking at the Guildhall, said that their thoughts naturally turned to the splendid efforts of the Dominions, and of India, who from the earliest days of the war had ranged themselves alongside Britain. The armed forces of India were the first to take the field.

Adverting to recruiting, he emphasised the splendid response up to the present, but said he had now to make another demand on the manhood of the country.

"We have now happily reached that period when the troops in training can be supplied with arms, material, and accommodation to make them efficient soldiers. It is clearly inexpedient to shoot abroad the numbers required. But I might intimate my intention to endeavour to secure through the Register Bill the services of all who for good or indifferent reasons have hitherto held back."

"The solemn hour is now striking. Let us take heed of the great opportunity offered."

Mr. Churchill, in a brief, stirring speech, said that every undertaking he had given regarding the work of the Navy had been carried out, and Britannia ruled the waves. (Loud cheers.) He earnestly urged that discord should be allowed to die, and that our hate should be kept for our foe.

GENERAL BOTHA'S GREAT SUCCESS.

LONDON, July 10.

The Governor-General of the Union of South Africa telegraphs to the Secretary of State for the Colonies that on 9th July the following was officially communicated:—

From Defence Headquarters, Pretoria, July 9th, 2 a.m. General Botha accepted Governor Seitz's surrender of all German forces in South-West Africa.

Hostilities have ceased and the campaign has thus been brought to a successful conclusion.

Practically the whole of the citizen forces will be brought back to the Union as quickly as available transport facilities permit.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM ENGLAND.

LONDON, July 11.

Mr. Bonar Law, Secretary of State for the Colonies, has cabled Sir Sydney Buxton, Governor-General of the South African Union, congratulations on General Botha's brilliant generalship, and also on the bravery of the troops.

Lord Kitchener, cabling congratulations to Sir Louis Botha, says:—"We will welcome you and the South Africans who can join us."

GENERAL BOTHA'S REPORT.

LONDON, July 11.

General Botha reports that the combined work, under difficult conditions, resulting in the surrender of the Germans reflects the greatest credit on all Staffs. He also says that the mounted brigades participating were principally drawn from the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, while the marks of the infantry rank high among military achievements.

General Lukin was entrusted with the taking and surrender of the Germans.

One mounted and one infantry Brigade remain temporarily at Otavi to take charge of the prisoners and material. The German active officers retain their arms but give their parole and choose a place of abode. The active troops will be interned, retaining their rifles but no ammunition. The Reservists give up their arms, sign a parole and return to their homes. All the war material will be surrendered to the Union.

A FORMIDABLE TASK ACCOMPLISHED.

LONDON, July 11.

The newspapers give prominence to General Botha's achievement. Articles by military experts exhaustively describe the formidable nature of the German preparations, the difficulties of the country, and the organisation of the Union Forces which had hitherto been imperfectly appreciated here owing, apparently, to the effortless rapidity of the victory. They also pay a tribute to General Botha's brilliant Lieutenants, and especially Smuts, bracketing the two soldier Statesmen.

THE BRITISH WAR LOAN.

£700,000,000 ALREADY SUBSCRIBED.

LONDON, July 11.

City estimates already bring up the War Loan to £700,000,000 in large amounts, of which the banks alone subscribe over £200,000,000. There will be some increase before the loan closes to-night, but the bonds and vouchers remain open and will swell the total for some months to come.

THE "CITY'S" SPLENDID SUPPORT.

Large subscriptions have been made to the War Loan, which closed yesterday.

The Right Hon. Sir John Simon (Home Secretary) in a speech, said that Mr. Lloyd George had assured him that the City's support of the loan had fulfilled his expectations.

GERMAN-AMERICAN CRISIS.

AMERICA TO ASSERT HER RIGHTS?

LONDON, July 11.

Reuter's Washington correspondent telegraphs that the German-American crisis is acute owing to Germany's unsatisfactory reply. Officials, despite reticence, admit that Germany is endeavoring to evade the whole question, and has wholly ignored the principles for which the United States stands. It is argued that now is the time for the assertion of American rights.

A WILSON LINER TORPEDOED.

LONDON, July 10.

The Wilson liner Guido, bound from Hull to Archangel, was torpedoed and sunk in the North of Scotland. The crew were saved.

AUSTRALIA AND THE WAR.

LONDON, July 10.

In the House of Representatives, says a Melbourne telegram, Mr. Andrew Fisher announced the creation of a Minister of Marine, to assist the Minister of Defence. Also the introduction of a National Register Bill, and the appointment of a non-Party Committee, including two representatives from each State, to which questions relating to the war will be referred by the Commonwealth.

GERMAN ATTACKS REPULSED.

LONDON, July 10.

To-day's Paris communique says:—"We repulsed German attacks north of Arras."

A German attack on the Perennes and "Bancourt" front was thwarted by our artillery and machine-guns, and dispersed with heavy losses.

FRENCH AIRMEN'S RAID.

LONDON, July 10.

French aeroplanes bombed the stations of Arrasville, Bayonville, and stations, dropping bombs and firing.

ALLEGED QUARRELS.

Abroad Exaggerations.

LONDON, July 10.

Mr. Lloyd George's return to Lord Haldane is the engrossing topic in the Lobby. Members are bewildered, and some are openly taking sides, while others are awaiting information which it is hoped Mr. Asquith will furnish when he is questioned on Monday. The consensus of opinion is that such a quarrel at the present time is most unseemly.

The opponents of Lord Haldane assert that an intrigue is afoot to restore him to the Government.

How unfortunate the incident is is evidenced by the rumour to the effect that if General Von Donop does not resign Mr. Lloyd George will, and if General Von Donop goes Lord Kitchener will resign.

The papers emphasise that the strength of the national feeling on the war is shown in the utter collapse of the opposition to the Register Bill, and point out that the nation will not endure rivalries and animosities among its leaders.

SWEDEN AND GERMAN BARBARITY.

Letter of Protest Against Enemy's Methods of Warfare.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY GRAPHIC.

Sir—English people know that the Swedish nation is practically unanimous in supporting the Government in its policy of strict neutrality. Yet a large section of the people, whether the majority or not we cannot say, is anything but neutral in their feelings at the methods of warfare which have been adopted in this terrible war, and have culminated in the sinking of the Lusitania.

The misconception that war suspends all laws of humanity must prove fatal to the future of civilisation, and disastrous for that human solidarity that is of such vital interest to the smaller nations especially.
